

INTERNATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE 2011-2012 KEYNOTE SPEAKER SERIES

Christian Leuprecht, Ph.D. Associate Professor, Royal Military College of Canada, and Fellow of Queen's University's Centre for International and Defense Policy Kingston, Ontario, Canada

Dr. Christian Leuprecht is an associate professor in the Department of Political Science and Economics at the Royal Military College of Canada, and he is cross-appointed to the Department of Political Studies and the School of Policy Studies at Queen's University. He is also a fellow of the Institute of Intergovernmental Relations, the Queen's Centre for International and Defense Policy, and the Chair in Defense Management Studies. Leuprecht's research priorities include national security and defense policy, political violence/terrorism, the political, economic, security, social and cultural implications of demographic change, horizon scanning of emerging security threats, civil-military relations, federalism and intergovernmental relations, dynamics of ethno-national conflict, comparative constitutional politics, and Canadian as well as German politics.

Dr. Leuprecht holds a Ph.D. from Queen's University (2003). He also earned graduate degrees in Political Science (1998) and French (1999) from the University of Toronto as well as the Institut d'Études Politiques at the Université Pierre-Mendès France in Grenoble (1997).

Leuprecht has been a visiting professor at the University of Augsburg in Germany (2011) and the Swedish National Defense College (2009), the Bicentennial Visiting Associate Professor in Canadian Studies at Yale University (2009-2010), and a research fellow at the Austrian Institute for European and Security Policy (since 2010), the Solomon Asch Center for Study of Ethnopolitical Conflict at the University of Pennsylvania and Bryn Mawr College (2003), the World Population Program at the International Institute for Advanced Systems Analysis in Vienna, Austria (2002), and at Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada as doctoral (2001-2003) and post-doctoral fellow (2003-2005). He collaborates with federal agencies on issues of national security and horizon scanning. His research has attracted in excess of $3 million in extra-mural funding and has taken him to the United States, Mexico, Germany, Sweden, France, the Netherlands, Italy, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Mauritius, India, and Singapore. His award-winning publications have appeared in English, German, French, and Spanish; they include nine books as well as over 50 scholarly articles and book chapters. He is a frequent commentator in national and international media, and he is a regular contributor on CTV News Channel and Sun News Network.

A.R. SANCHEZ, JR.
SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

INTERNATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE 2011-2012 KEYNOTE SPEAKER SERIES

Todd Hataley, Ph.D.

Adjunct Assistant Professor, Royal Military College of Canada, and Fellow of Queen's University's Centre for International and Defense Policy
Kingston, Ontario, Canada

Dr. T. S. (Todd) Hataley is employed in the Canadian security sector. He also holds an appointment as an adjunct professor at the Royal Military College of Canada and as a research fellow at the Centre for International and Defense Policy at Queen's University.

His current research interests include: radicalization, regional security, and transnational crime. Among his publications are: Canada-United States Border: Post 9/11 and Beyond (forthcoming); Comprehensive Approach Domestic Operations: Law Enforcement Integration (2011); Security Integration along the Canada – United States Border (forthcoming); Narrative and counter-narratives for Global Jihad: opinion versus action (2010); Winning the battle but losing the war: Narrative and counter-narrative strategy (2009). Re-conceptions of national security in the age of terrorism: Implications for federal policing in Canada (2009); Towards a New Trilateral Security Relationship: United States, Canada and Mexico 2012 (2009); Catastrophic Terrorism at the Canada-United States Border (2007), Drug Trade and the War on Drugs (2007).

Hataley holds a Ph.D. in Political Science from Queen's University in Kingston, Ontario, Canada.

A.R. SANCHEZ, JR.
SCHOOL OF BUSINESS

